To Whom it may concern

Greg Hunter has been engaged as a Carpenter and Joinery Contactor for this company over the period of ten years.

We have at all times left Greg to his own management on our construction sites, as we have found him to be completely trustworthy and reliable (not often encountered in the building industry).

Greg quite often started work before others arrived on site and was still there after the other workers had left, often working 60-70 hours a week.

His standard of workmanship could only be described as outstanding, as he was able to turn his hand to any task that was set him.

The projects that he worked on ranged from small houses to multi storey blocks of units.

The writer is quite comfortable in recommending Greg Hunter for any position that requires hard work, honesty and reliability.

Please feel free to contact us for any further information.

Sincerely yours,
